SUCCESS STORIES

FARHANA MALIK

Faisalabad

- My name is Farhana Malik, 32, from Faisalabad, Punjab. Suffering from a physical disability due to typhoid fever at age 2, I faced immense challenges throughout my education and job search. Despite earning an MPhil from Agriculture University Faisalabad in 2017, I struggled to find employment due to my disability.
- In a desperate time, I found hope through CHIP's online career development opportunity on Brightspyre. The Accenture training course helped me improve my CV and interview skills. Inspired by my experience, I became a technical lead for Accenture training at CHIP, assisting over 50 youth with disabilities in completing their career development courses.
- Thanks to the Futuremakers initiative, I gained professional growth, self-confidence, and employability. Eventually, I fulfilled my dream of becoming a Lecturer at Agriculture University Faisalabad.
- My journey from struggle to success shows that with support and determination, dreams can come true.
